

Is your company installing new equipment? Upgrading old equipment? Carrying out a maintenance shutdown? Do you have a dedicated project manager?

Don't you want your technical staff to focus where they add most value? Wouldn't you like to be seeing more tracking, monitoring, analysing and forecasting of the key outcomes? Do you need some extra resourcing?

We can help!

We have highly experienced project managers available who have worked on an enormous range of challenging projects in numerous different industries.

We take a structured and disciplined approach to time, cost and quality; we pro-actively identify and manage risks and opportunities.

We work under accredited management systems for safety, environment and quality.

Best of all, we focus purely on actively managing the project so that the outcomes are optimised to your corporate priorities.
